

GAMACODE

PREAMBLE: The Gamacode is law. All Governing Bodies (GB) will obey the Gamacode. A Governing Body is any individual (ie. dictator, president, or monarch et al) or group of representatives that has authority over sentient beings.

1. No GB can interfere with a being's inherent and inalienable right to enjoy a life free of oppression.
2. A GB cannot interfere with a being's absolute right to arm, protect, and defend one's person, family, community, or property.
3. The GB will be local, accountable, fully open, and transparent where the right of public scrutiny shall not be denied.
4. No GB can interfere with a being's right to acquire, sell, possess, and enjoy private property.
5. It is GB's duty to insure a being's right to due process.
6. The GB cannot pass any law forbidding freedom of speech or to congregate "peacefully."
7. The GB cannot suppress a being's right to freedom of worship.
8. No GB has the power to create money.
9. No GB has the power to establish a central bank.
10. No GB has the power to tax or levy a person, property, or business.
11. No GB and its workforce can be greater than one, one thousandth percent (.001) of the population.
12. No GB official or representative may serve more than one, three-year term in their lifetime.
13. GBs do not have rights, they have a duty to the beings they represent, and the Gamacode.
14. GBs are subject to the laws they pass.
15. GBs do not have the power to prosecute.
16. No GB has the power to create a welfare state.
17. No GB can issue debt or operate in a deficit.
18. No GB has the right to own land.
20. No GB has the power to create a secret, clandestine organization, or military force.
21. No GB can revoke the Gamacode.
22. What the Gamacode does not cover is left to the GB of the particular society, country, or state they represent, to run as they choose, as long as the Gamacode is not violated.

CONCLUSION: The Gamacode is absolute and unequivocal. The Gamacode does not require trust or acceptance. No entity, being, or Governing Body is exempt. The Gamacode is not amendable. The Gamacode is not living, transitional, or temporary. The Gamacode is enduring and forever. Governing Bodies and/or Individuals violating the Gamacode will be immediately excommunicated to a world other than their own with no recourse of return.
